100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from Peter Graham, living near Middleburg, Loudoun county, Va. on the night of the 27th of March last, a very likely Negro girl, named ANN, purchased of Wm. Ruland, living at Aldie, Loudoun county, whose family she was raised in. She is of a yellow complexion, round faced, thick lips, with large staring eyes, and rather delicate featured for a slave;—small feet, a tolerable ready speech and mild with it; about 18 years of age, middle size, and very well made; rather thick, about 5 feet high from appearance. She had on when she went away a dress of coating cloth, made in a coat and jacket, with skirts of a brown snuff color. I have reason to believe she is in or near Philadelphia or New-York. I will give fifty dollars reward if taken in Fauquier, Loudoun, Prince William, or Fairfax counties, or the District of Columbia, if taken in any other county or state, and secured in any jail, so that I obtain information and get her, I will give one hundred dollars, and all reasonable charges paid in either case, if brought home.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions	Indigestion
Lowness of spirits	Melancholy
Loss of appetite	Gout in the stomach
Impurity of blood	Pains in the limbs
Hysteric'l affection	Relaxations, etc.
Inward weaknesses and debility

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittant and intermittent fevers.

☞ At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

Friday, January 9, 1818.

The case of colonel John Anderson was again before the house of representatives the greater part of yesterday.—In the conclusion of my last letter, I stated that the serjeant at arms, with the speaker's order to take him into custody, was gone in pursuit of him. Yesterday the speaker announced that Anderson was in custody to the house, and Mr. Forsyth moved that a committee of privileges, composed of seven members, should be appointed, to report to them upon oath what the proceedings were which ought to be adopted. This proposition was vehemently opposed by several members, who without any acquaintance with the prisoner, set their faces against the proceeding, not so much in his defence, as in defence of the constitutional rights and liberty of the citizens of the United States. They said that though Anderson might have transgressed the bounds of propriety, the proceeding against him, and particularly his arrest, were unwarranted by law, and directly in violation of the express terms of the constitution—that the house had no legal authority to act so—and that before any step could properly be taken, the real constitutional power of the house in that respect ought to be enquired into and ascertained.—If any such power or law did exist, it was incumbent on gentlemen to point it out satisfactorily before they hurried the house into such an act. In the rules of the house, there was no provision even hinted at for the punishment of any but its own members.—In this country, no man could be punished for an act which he did not know to be criminal; and where, it was asked, was the law to make that act charged to the prisoner a crime. The first question, therefore, for the house to decide was, whether they had a right to arrest and bring any citizen by compulsion to their bar. On the other hand, it was insisted that the constitution had, from the necessity of the case, granted to the house every power requisite to its defence and the protection of its purity—that the point had already been settled by three cases at least, one (that of Randolph and Whitney) in 1796, in which counsel was allowed to the accused, who were found guilty; a second in 1810, when a person was brought to the bar for an assault and battery out of the house upon a member; and one of a later date, where a printer was called before the house for the publication of its shut doors proceedings, and had he refused to answer, would have been committed to prison. The members who spoke in opposition were Mr. Herrick, Mr. Cushman, and Mr. Bail. They who supported the resolution were, beside Mr. Forsyth, Mr. Tucker, Mr. Hopkinson, Mr. Pitkin, and Mr. Sergeant. The resolution passed without a division, and Mr. Forsyth, Mr. Hopkinson, Mr. Tucker, Mr. Pitkin, Mr. Taylor, Mr. Johnson, of Ky. and Mr. Sergeant, were appointed a committee accordingly.

After retiring for some time, during which other business (not worth particularizing here) proceeded, the committee returned with a report that Anderson should be brought to the bar and called upon to answer such questions as the house might put to him; to be specified by them in writing. Anderson was accordingly called in—the speaker addressed him, and after imparting to him the charge and the resolution of the house, and informing him that he was at liberty to take the aid of counsel in his defence, appointed the prisoner to appear again at the bar on the morrow (this day) at one o'clock, when he was again conducted back by the sergeant at arms.

BONAPARTE.

The ship Cordelia, fr. Calcutta, stopt at St. Helena on the 13th of November, at which time Bonaparte was much out of health, and his legs had begun to swell.

Captain Humphreys, of the ship Cirrie, passed St. Helena on the 27th Nov. and was boarded by H. B. M. gun brig Leveret—info med that Bonaparte kept himself confined to his room. Capt. H. was also informed by the boarding officers, that one of the British gun brigs had been left on Tristram de Cunha, and every soul on board perished.

FROM INDIA.

Arrived on Saturday evening the ship Cirrie, Humphries, in 129 days from Calcutta—passed St. Helena on the 29th November last, and was informed by the boarding officer of H. M. brig Leveret, that Bonaparte was at Longwood, enjoying his usual health. The boats of the British squadron stationed at the island, which consisted of one line of battle ship and two brigs, continued to row guard about the island.

By the Cirrie we received a file of Calcutta papers.

A supplement to the Asiatic Mirror of the 6th of August contains intelligence from New South Wales to the 19th April.

The ships Fame, with 198, and Sir William Bensley, with 199 male prisoners had arrived from England.

The papers also contain accounts of inundations at Hawkesbury, Maugrove, Nepean, and Windsor. The water had risen very high, and had covered all the low lands. The wheat and maize, of which there was an abundant crop, had been swept off. Many families were involved in a frightful situation—climbing to the tops of their houses to save themselves from the flood, without food or fire, aroused to greater terrors by the howlings of the angry storm, and crashing of immense trees that carried all before them. Some lives were lost. A father and his son saved their lives, the former in a washing tub, the latter in a pig trough—The loss of stock is very considerable, and the air had become much infected with the carcases of animals, &c.

On the 6th June the French ship l'Aloutte, king's transport, from Rochfort, bound to Bourbon, with M. David, midshipman, and Mr. Barre, French priest, and 70 other passengers, struck on a rock in a thick fog, a little to the westward of Cape Point, and went down instantly.—One child only was drowned. Relief was sent by Sir J. Brenton, bart.

The Madras Courier of August 15th announces the arrival in the roads of the American ship Athens, from New-York, whence she sailed on the 27th March.

Another fire had broken out at Port Louis; at one time it threatened to rival the destruction by fire in September last, but it was suppressed after destroying three houses and property to the value of $10,000.

The American ship Enterprize, captain Coffin, of Philadelphia, arrived at New South Wales on the 22d March; she left Philadelphia in 1815, on a sealing voyage. She had visited the Isle of France, had been among the islands to the southward and eastward, and left a sealing gang on one of them. She was at Derwent last December, and had put into N. S. Wales to refresh.

The Colonial brig Endeavor, captain Hammond, arrived on the 5th April from Kangaroo Island. Capt. H. reports that 13 Europeans were living on the island in a curious state of independence, having nothing to depend on for subsistence but the wild birds that inhabit it. A well known character of the name of Phifor was among them.

IMPORTANT TO MARINERS.

Captain H. on his passage from Kangaroo Island, discovered a shoal off Cape Jaffa, lying in 139 31 East longitude, and 36 58 South latitude, bearing West by South about 12 miles distant from that Cape. The shoal is estimated to be about three miles in length, and three quarters of a mile in breadth, having a black rock in or near the centre, eight or ten feet high. It could not be found in any chart. As it lies in the direct track of vessels communicating with Kangaroo Island, and other islands or places to the southward and westward, the discovery is of the utmost importance to navigators, the more especially as it is separated from the main about the distance that vessels generally keep off the land.

Captain Colin, of the American ship Enterprize, informs us of his having met with three men on one of the small islands, called the Snares, off New Zealand, who were some years since left there by the schooner Adventure, of London. The Adventure had been sealing, and falling short of provisions, the captain submitted to their choice either to go on shore or to starve afloat. They went on shore much against their will, taking a few potatoes, which they planted, and had since lived upon the produce of, together with birds and sea fish which occasionally fell in their way. Their number was originally four—one had died, and all had the same dreary prospect before them, but Providence had been kinder than their expectation and miraculously preserved them. These men had written discharges from the captain of the Adventure.

The Calcutta papers are filled with the proceedings of the 14th Congress of the United States. In a supplement to one of them there is fifteen columns occupied with a debate on the bill to prevent citizens of the United States from selling vessels of war to the citizens or subjects of any foreign power.

Calcutta, August 15.

We have been favored by an obliging friend with the following interesting account of the attack and fall of the fortified Pettah and Ghurry of Doosannah, 10th July, 1817.

A detachment consisting of 4 galloper guns, the 3d regiment light cavalry, a battalion of the twenty-second regiment native infantry, and some Mysorean horse, under the command of lieut. col. R Scott, marched from brig. gen. Doveton's camp at Outcean in Kandeish, on the 3d of July, for the purpose of dispersing a body of the insurgents (who had lately thrown off their allegiance to the court of Poonah) who might be found in arms.

On the 9th of July, intelligence was received that a party who were engaged in the siege of a neighboring town, hearing the approach of the British detachment, had occupied the fort and pettah of Doosannah. Doosannah is situated on the right bank of the Borah river, a tributary stream of the Taptee.

One of the chiefs of the band or insurrection, after having made every preparation, fled to the southward, entrusting the defence of the place to three hundred Arabs.

A little after sun-rise on the 10th, our troops crowned the heights, and were immediately fired upon by the garrison. The line fell back a few paces, and were completely sheltered by the swell of the ground, while the colonel proceeded to reconnoitre the works, which he did most minutely; and decided upon the plan of attack. The troops were then permitted to refresh themselves; and during this interval the tent poles were converted into scaling ladders.

Every arrangement having been made, and the troops at their different posts, a flag of truce was despatched to the fort but being repeatedly fired upon, the signal for attack was given. The four galloper guns were run up, so as to enfilade two faces of the pettah wall; and also to keep down the fire from the ghurry, on which were placed a 5 and 2 pounder, besides jinjals. After a few rounds, the guns were advanced, and there being no great supply of ammunition, the infantry were ordered to escalade the wall, which they did in the most gallant style under a heavy fire greatly exposed; the walls of the ghurry being 40 feet in height.

In less than half an hour, the pettah and 3 gates were carried, and a couple of 6 pounders ready to be put up to the inner gate, when the Arabs demanded a parley and after some delay capitulated, and were marched prisoners to the British encampment. The gate of the ghurry was well flanked by loop holes, and the ascent to it being by steps, many more lives must have been sacrificed, had not the garrison been thrown into a panic. Even had this gateway been forced, an inner stair case led to a door placed at right angles to the entrance, and this must have been burst open before access could be had to the inner citadel or ghurry.

Our loss was trifling, considering the great strength of the place; 5 Seapoys were killed, 10 have since died of their wounds; 15 wounded, 2 horses killed, and 2 wounded.

Fort William, August 14.

The hon. the Vice President in Council, has received with the deepest regret and concern, information of the lamented decease of the hon. Mr. Davot, Intendant of Chandernagur and its dependencies, which melancholy event took place at this Presidency in the afternoon of yesterday, the 13th instant.

Calcutta, August 20.

The ship Welton, Wallace, for London, upset on Thursday last, while at anchor near Hog River, and has been totally lost. The crew was saved, but neither private baggage, nor the post-office packets. By the last accounts, her topmasts were just visible above the water.

It appears from the Madras papers, considerable military preparations were making in the Deccan. General Hislop held a levee previous to his departure, to put himself at the head of the army. Orders have also been issued, directing all military returns, etc. to be forwarded to the head quarters at Hydrabad.

SPEECH OF HIS MAJESTY LOUIS 18,

Pronounced at the opening of the Session, on the 5th Nov. 1817.

"Gentlemen—At the opening of the last session, I spoke to you of the hopes inspired by the marriage of the Duke de Berry. Though Providence has too suddenly withdrawn the gift it bestowed, yet we behold in it assurances of the future accomplishment of our wishes.

"The treaty with the Holy See, which I mentioned last year, has since been concluded. I have desired my Ministers, in communicating it to you, to propose the project of a law, necessary to give the legislative sanction to such of its conditions as may be susceptible of it, and to make it in unison with the charter, the laws of the kingdom, and those privileges of the Gallican Church; the precious inheritance of our fathers, of which St. Louis and all his successors were no less jealous than of the happiness of their subjects.

"The harvest of 1816, by its deficiences, frustrated, in a great degree, my hopes. The sufferings of my people have afflicted my heart. I have, however, beheld with emotion, that almost every where they have endured them with a degree of touching fortitude, and if, in some places, they have broken out into seditious acts, order was soon re-established. In order to mitigate the misfortunes of that period, I have found it necessary to make great efforts, and extraordinary pecuniary sacrifices. The details will be presented to you, and the zeal with which you are animated for public good, will not permit me to doubt that these unforeseen expenses will have your sanction. The harvest of this year is more satisfactory, but on the other hand, some local calamities, and the blights which have fallen upon the vineyards, excite my paternal solicitude for privations which without your co-operation, I cannot relieve.

"I have ordered that the budget of the current charges should be submitted to you. If the expenses resulting from treaties, and from the deplorable war they have terminated, will not permit any immediate diminution of the taxes voted in preceding sessions, I have at least the satisfaction of thinking, that the economy I have prescribed will preclude the necessity of any augmentation, and that a vote of credit, inferior to that of the last session, will suffice for all the wants of the year.

"The conventions which I signed in 1815, presenting results which could not then be foreseen, have rendered a new negociation necessary. Every thing leads me to hope, that its issue will be favorable, and that conditions far above our means, will be succeeded by others more conformable to equity, to moderation, and to the possibility of sacrifices, which my people support with a constancy that can add nothing to my love for them, but which give them new claims to my gratitude, and to the esteem of all nations.

"Thus, as I had the happiness of announcing to you, in the course of last session, the expenses arising from the army of occupation are diminished a fifth, and the period is not far distant, when we may be permitted to hope, thanks to the wisdom and energy of my government, to the love and confidence of my people, and to the friendship of my Allies, that those expenses will entirely cease; and that our country will resume among nations the rank and renown due to the valor of Frenchmen, and their noble character in adversity.

"To attain this end, I shall more than ever require a unanimity between the people and the throne; that vigor without which authority is powerless. In proportion as that authority is strong, will be the diminished necessity of its becoming austere. The manner in which the depositories of my power have used what the laws have construed to them, justifies my confidence. However, I feel great satisfaction in announcing to you, that I do not consider it requisite to continue the Prevotal Courts beyond the term fixed for their existence by the law which created them.

"I have digested, conformably to the Charter, a law for recruiting. I wish that no privileges should be sought; that the spirit and dispositions of that charter, our true compass which calls all Frenchmen indiscriminately to offices and employments, should not be illusory, and that the soldier should find no other limit to his honorable career, than those of his talents and of his services. If the execution of this salutary law should demand an augmentation in the budget of the war ministers, you, as the interpreters of the sentiments of my people, will not hesitate to sanction arrangements which secure to France that independence and that dignity, without which there can be neither King nor nation.

"I have detailed to you our difficulties, and the measures they will require. In conclusion, I shall direct your attention to objects of a more engaging description. Thanks to the peace restored to the Church of France, Religion, that eternal basis of all felicity, even on earth, will, I doubt not, flourish amongst us; tranquility and confidence begin to re-appear; public credit is strengthening itself; agriculture, commerce and industry, resume their activity; new master pieces of art excite admiration. One of my children is traversing, at this moment, a part of the kingdom, and in return for sentiments so deeply engraven on his heart, and manifested by his conduct, he is ever greeted with benedictions: while I, who have but one feeling, the happiness of my people, who am desirous, for their good alone, of that authority which I shall defend from all attacks, of whatever kind, I know that I am beloved by them, and I find in my heart the assurance that this consolation will never be denied to me."

DEATH OF THE NEW DEY OF ALGIERS.

In the late London Papers, there is a Leghorn date of October 9, stating that Sir Robert Gembin, commander of the English Corvette Myrmidon, who had arrived there from Mahon, had brought the following news:—"The English Consul at Mahon, has received from the Consul of the same nation at Algiers, official news of the death of the Dey on the 18th Sept. This event resulted from the entrance of a Hamburgh prize into the port.—The English Consul demanded that it should be restored, but the Dey having refused, all the Consuls drew up an energetic protest, threatening to depart. This gave rise to a popular commotion. The Dey retired to the Palace, but was attacked by the people and strangled. The new Dey was formerly a shoe-maker. He shews a pacific disposition, and has already offered to put the town of Bona into the hands of the English. It is not known whether this offer will be excepted. The town is quiet, and the Consuls are respected."

She was possessed of all those interesting quality's which were calculated to produce in the minds of those who knew her the highest degree of love and respect. Affable and mild in her deportment, her great delight consisted in rendering herself agreeable, and being useful to those who required the exercise of the pleasing duties of benevolence and charity. The only consolation which her husband and young and promising family can derive from their irreparable bereavement will necessarily flow from that deep sense of those christian virtues and graces which so eminently adorned her character.

☞ JOHN HOPKINS, JR. will practice Law in the Superior and Inferior Courts of Frederick and Jefferson counties. His office is in Winchester.
Winchester, Dec. 19. 1m

To the Flour and Rice Millers OF THE UNITED STATES.

GENTLEMEN,—It appears that many have refused to pay for license to use my improvements in the art of manufacturing flour, and in lessening the labor in rice mills, waiting the decision of the United States' courts; while many others have paid freely the sums I demanded for my license; there can exist no reason why some should pay and others be exempt. There has already been a sufficient number of decisions establishing the law, that each infringer is liable to pay treble my actual damages, which cannot be rated at less than the value of the use of my property during the infringement. I have expended the greatest part of a long, arduous, and indefatigable life in study and exertions to invent and introduce into useful operation several important and highly useful improvements, from which great benefits are derived to the users, and I could have put in operation many more equally useful, but was prevented by the unjustifiable opposition, wasting the profits of those in operation, which I had intended to apply to put others in operation which I had discovered; but which now lay dormant, to my great mortification and the public injury. I come into the courts claiming remuneration for my time and labor—the great expenses that I have incurred in advertising repeatedly over the United States, and in my agents travelling for many years to make the utility of the improvements known, and to instruct millwrights to make, and millers to use them. The law contemplates that I shall receive ample remuneration, and by it I was encouraged to risk the great expenses. I have repeatedly published that the price of my license for the remainder of the term should be, the full price of the labor and boarding saved by the use of my improvements in one year only, with lawful interest until paid; but to those who infringed my rights, and refused to pay when called on, I would, beginning with the year ending January 22, 1815, count the sum saved in labor and boarding during the last year (equal to the first price) as a new sum becoming due, and running on interest also; and so on, the 22d day of January in each and every year thereafter a new sum saved in labor and boarding becomes due, and runs on interest until license be purchased, demanding the interest only on all these sums, leaving the principal in the hands of the users; which is the least I can receive of them to meet the expenses which they have compelled me to incur. The above are now the only terms on which my agents are instructed to grant licenses, and they are instructed to institute suits against all infringers without giving them another call.

Those who wish to purchase licenses may apply to John Love, esq. Buckland, Prince William county, or to capt. John Moody, Richmond, Va.

OLIVER EVANS.

NOTE.—Persons using Mr. Evans' improvements, or parts of them, unpaid for, will be sued if they do not discharge the claim on application. Mr. William H. Alexander has, under my authority from Mr. Evans, been empowered to receive payments and deliver licenses to use his improvements. Payments, therefore, made to him, John Moody, or myself, will alone be valid, and save the expense of suit and treble damages to the defendants. JOHN LOVE.

ON the 10th January next, if fair, if not, the next fair day, will be offered at public auction, on the premises, a certain tract or parcel of LAND, situate in the county of Loudoun, near the Gum Spring, and at the intersection of the Little River Turnpike and Centreville Road, near the 96 mile stone, containing 752 acres. It is presumed and wished that all who are inclined to become purchasers, will examine the lands; and, therefore, it becomes unnecessary to be more particular. Sully for Sale.

THIS estate, situated in the county of Fairfax, twenty two miles from Alexandria, and the same distance from Georgetown, contains about seven hundred and fifty acres. Little River Turnpike passes through it half a mile from the dwelling house. The situation is handsome, and remarkably healthy; the water is good and abundant. The soil which was originally excellent, has for some years past had the advantage of improving husbandry, Plaister of Paris acting with powerful and immediate effect on all grasses and grains. The fields present a good surface for cultivation; and those, now untilled, are covered with red clover. The orchards are very large and thrifty; the collection of table fruit is choice and various. The mansion is spacious and well constructed: the outhouses are conveniently situated, and the whole have been lately thoroughly repaired and painted. The farm houses, which are all nearly new, are expensive and excellent in their kind.

For a gentleman of leisure this would be a delightful residence; and a profitable estate for an active farmer. The title is indisputable, and perfectly unincumbered.

A number of well taught orderly young men, with good stocks and farming utensils of all kinds, and the crops of the present year, if desired, will be at the command of the purchaser.

Application may be made to the subscriber, living on the premises, near the post-office at Pleasant Valley, in Fairfax.

I WILL give the above reward for taking up and delivering to me in Alexandria, or lodging in jail so that I get him again, negro man WILLIAM, who eloped from Washington, D. C. His clothing is not recollected, but as he received his wages before he started it is probable he has furnished himself with a new suit. BENJ. T. FENDALL.

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAILY's ANTI-BILIOUS PILL.

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
